

Top-10 Seasonal Cross Country Team Rankings - Girls 6A

This is the ranking of cross country teams based solely on their top seven runners Pr times each season.

This may differ from State meet results, by allowing a third or fourth strong team from a District to be eligible for ranking consideration (whereas they would not have qualified for or placed at State). It presumes all runners are healthy and running their best season Pr and does not account for a coach's choice to rest a participant. Admittedly, the greatest subjective liberty in this ranking is that it discounts the impact of "fast" or "slow" race courses, instead treating all with equal measure.

Source: Appreciation is extended to our friends at Athletic.Net, whose 'hypothetical meet' is the basis of this ranking.

Note: Since there was no central location by which teams could report their teams season Pr lists prior to 2005 (when Athletic.Net started), it is impossible to reasonably reconstruct the top-10 rankings with any degree of accuracy prior to that season. State finishes would be the best source for completing such older rankings, but even here 2-3 teams would not have made the Championships who should be in the top-ten, and Pr lists could not be accounted for. Hence, rankings prior to 2005 do not exist.

Top-10 Seasonal Cross Country Team Rankings - Boys 3A

This is the ranking of cross country teams based solely on their top seven runners Pr times each season.

This may differ from State meet results, by allowing a third or fourth strong team from a District to be eligible for ranking consideration (whereas they would not have qualified for or placed at State). It presumes all runners are healthy and running their best season Pr and does not account for a coach's choice to rest a participant. Admittedly, the greatest subjective liberty in this ranking is that it discounts the impact of "fast" or "slow" race courses, instead treating all with equal measure.

Source: Appreciation is extended to our friends at Athletic.Net, whose 'hypothetical meet' is the basis of this ranking.

Note: Since there was no central location by which teams could report their teams season Pr lists prior to 2005 (when Athletic.Net started), it is impossible to reasonably reconstruct the top-10 rankings with any degree of accuracy prior to that season. State finishes would be the best source for completing such older rankings, but even here 2-3 teams would not have made the Championships who should be in the top-ten, and Pr lists could not be accounted for. Hence, rankings prior to 2005 do not exist.

From 2017 and earlier there was a single 3A/2A/1A race, but with 2018 the 3A field was decoupled from the 2A/1A. The old 3A/2A/1A appears in the below for 2017 and earlier, but with 2018 it reflects only those in the 2A/1A competition
